I can't decide between a mower with the 6.75 torque Briggs and Stratton, or the 6.9 torque 160cc Honda engine. I am interested in hearing from people who have used both engines, and they're opinions. I guess I am more interested in hearing about the performance of the Honda, I've used a 6.5 Briggs and was happy with the performance.

The Honda engine is very quiet yet powerful, and the mower mulches grass very well. The only negative is the deck seems a little flimsy, a lot of plastic is used in its construction but I guess that's the trade off for being light weight. Overall I believe this Craftsman mower should last a long time if properly maintained.
