The Honda VTR1000F

(frame designation

"SC36") was a 90° V-

twin sport bike

produced by Honda

from 1997 to 2005.
Known worldwide as
the Firestorm, in the USA it was marketed as the SuperHawk. In 2005, the VTR1000F
was discontinued.

Honda VTR1000F - Wikipedia

American Honda
recently threw a
coming out party for the all-new VTR1000F Super Hawk, inviting the U.S. moto-press to the bash. The event's backdrop was the picturesque wine country of Temecula, California, and its maze of gnarly, tight and twisting back roads proved the perfect venue to show off, as one Honda engineer put it, the Super Hawk's "lively personality."

When Honda released

couldn't have imagined such global popularity.

Built to cash in on the sales and race success of Ducati's 916 during the 1990s, the

Firestorm configuration represented a massive shift from Honda's tried-and-true four-cylinder sports offerings.

Future classic

The Super Hawk, in typical Honda fashion, scored well in nearly every category. And

Although we've said it before, the VTR's fuel range is a joke, forcing riders to plan their trips around the all-too-frequent fuel stops. On the gas at low rpm, the VTR also struggles to overcome tall gearing.

wasn't. Granted he was looking for a street bike, but the time, effort, and money he's put into his VTR1000F Firestorm, otherwise known as the Superhawk in the US, rivals that of many racebike builds we've seen. Here's Part 1 of Micky's bike build.
